Senior Connection to present 'House cleaning is good for your well-being' Feb. 13

The Senior Connection Speakers Bureau will host the free presentation "House Cleaning is Good for Your Well Being" at noon Thursday, Feb 13, at Las Fuentes Resort Village, 1035 Scott Drive, Prescott (off Ruth Street, near Prescott High School).

The discussion will be presented by Lucy Leyva, owner of Maid To Order in Prescott Valley.

First and foremost, a clean home is a healthy home. A clean home is more than just a tidy space — it's essential for your health. Regular deep cleaning addresses hidden dirt, allergens and bacteria accumulating over time, contributing to a healthier living environment.

A clean home isn't just about physical health; it also benefits mental well-being. Studies show that clutter and mess increase stress and anxiety levels, while a clean, organized environment fosters relaxation and mental clarity.

One of the most critical reasons for regular deep cleaning is to reduce such allergens as dust mites, pet dander and pollen. These microscopic irritants settle into carpets, furniture, and even behind curtains, causing poor air quality that can lead to allergies and respiratory issues.

Damp areas in your home, such as bathrooms and kitchens, are breeding grounds for mold and bacteria. These areas can become health hazards without regular deep cleaning, especially for those with weakened immune systems or respiratory conditions. Mold can be hazardous, producing spores that aggravate asthma and allergies, and can build up in hidden spaces such as window sills.

This educational presentation is brought to you as a community service without obligation and is open to the public. Masking and distancing requirements may be in effect. Please let Senior Connection know that you will be attending by contacting Don Stewart at Don@SeniorConnection.us or 928-778-3747.
